

Tax Credit and Grant Opportunities for Small Biotech and Life Sciences Companies

An Overview of New IRS Qualifying Therapeutic Discovery Project Program

July 8, 2010
12:00 - 1:00 pm
BYO brown-bag lunch

Speakers:

Jennifer L. Miller, Partner, Ballard Spahr LLP

Patrick J. Kelly, Partner, Ballard Spahr LLP

Christopher A. Jones, Associate, Ballard Spahr LLP

This presentation will give an overview of the IRS announcement of a program that opens the door for biotechnology and life sciences companies with no more than 250 employees to receive tax credits and grants under the Qualifying Therapeutic Discovery Project Program, created by the Affordable Care Act and a review of IRS Form 892, the application that must be submitted by interested companies. This program offers a substantial financial benefit to biotech companies that have implemented or are considering investment in certain research projects.

Location:

University City Science Center | 3711 Market Street, Suite 800 | Philadelphia, PA 19104

This event is free, but you must RSVP to attend!

RSVP to Sheila Greer at sgreer@sciencecenter.org

Applications for grants and tax credits through IRS Form 892 are due by July 21, 2010.

Ballard Spahr attorneys are available to assist companies in evaluating their eligibility for a tax credit or grant and in preparing the applications.

Presented by:

Ballard Spahr
LLP

